MITCH REED

"My presentation will be based on my book
"Cardboard Confessionals".
We discover the five most influential people in our lives and how they came to be. We discuss the little things in life and how taking advantage of those can make all the difference. The first step to helping those around us is to appreciate their strength and understand what they are going through. By doing this, we can empower them to support and care for those in their lives."

Greetings,

Fall is a season which offers a lot of unique emotions. The return to school with the excitement and anticipation of the opportunities that a new academic year represents. The brilliant color of trees as the leaves change and then fall to the ground to create picturesque landscapes. The chill of the morning and evening temperatures to remind us of the coming winter. And most importantly, Fall reminds us to be thankful for the many blessings we have. In a year with unique challenges like a pandemic that none of us have experienced before and are continually learning how to handle, it may be easier to forget to be thankful. We each have many, many things to be thankful for during this season and all year long. Dakota Hospital Foundation is thankful for the excellent medical staff and all of the employees who with their dedication have provided our patients, visitors, and residents the highest level of services. DHF is thankful for our members and partners who together advance healthcare in our community.

John Prescott

As this year draws to a close, DHF has plans to accomplish several more items. Our second grant cycle of 2020 recently closed. The Innovation Committee is reviewing the applications and will be making recommendations to the full Board. We look forward to announcing the grant recipients after the November Board meeting. Since 2014, DHF has awarded $222,900 funding in grants.

DHF is able to award grants and advance health care thanks partially to the support of our members. If you are a past member and haven't renewed your membership yet, please take a minute to renew your membership on the DHF website or through the form in this newsletter. If you have not been a member before, we invite you to join us. We would love to have you as part of our Dakota Hospital Foundation family.

If you want to learn more about DHF, please check out our website or Facebook page. We are starting a series of videos about what DHF means to different individuals. Check out Board member Katherine Price's video. There are more videos to come.

On Monday, November 23 at Noon, DHF will be hosting motivational speaker, Mitch Reed. He is the author of the book Cardboard Confessionals. Mitch will be speaking about meaningful conversations. Please join us for this free Zoom webinar event or tune in to Midco channel 3. Details on how to participate are on the cover.

Looking for a fun way to recognize someone and help DHF raise funds at the same time? Why not put their name in lights? Look inside for information on how to put your message on the marquee sign at the corner of Plum and E Main Street. Perhaps a message of thanks to celebrate the season.

With much gratitude,
John Prescott, President
